Dracula - Bram Stoker - Chapter II Jonathan Harker's Journal
5 may - I must have been asleep, for certainly if I had been fully awake I must have noticed the approach of such a remarkable place. In the gloom the courtyard looked of considerable size, and as several dark ways led from it under great round arches, it perhaps seemed bigger than it really is. I have not yet been able to see it by daylight.

- * certainly : ciertamente
- * remarkable : notable, destacado
- * gloom : oscuridad, melancolía, penumbra
- * courtyard : patio
- * perhaps : quizás, tal vez

12 Dracula - Bram Stoker - Chapter II
Just as I had come to this conclusion I heard a heavy step approaching behind the great door, and saw through the chinks the gleam of a coming light. Then there was the sound of rattling chains and the clanking of massive bolts draw back. A key was turned with the loud grating noise of long disuse, and the great door swung back.

- * chinks → resquíos, grietas
